PROFILE

Award-winning senior marketing strategist leading integrated marketing, communications and digital media across international markets. Specialise in multi-market go-to-market strategy, brand positioning and performance optimisation, combining insight-led planning with strong execution across paid, earned and owned channels. Experienced in building scalable sales-enablement frameworks, managing US$250K+ media investment, and leading crisis and regulatory communications in complex international markets. Forbes Communications Council member and published contributor on AI and global trade, with a collaborative, stakeholder-led approach to commercial impact.

SELECTED ACHIEVEMENTS

- Drove US$9M in first-year revenue for a first-of-its-kind logistics technology (CUBBY Cargo) through product campaigns across four markets.
- Supported a US$300M sales pipeline and seven international enterprise deals through sector-specific sales plays and executive narratives.
- Won a Silver ADDY (American Advertising Awards 2026) for the CUBBY Cargo campaign — the only logistics company recognised alongside global advertising agencies.
- Led launch marketing for MAWI, an AI customs-brokerage platform — 20,000+ sign-ups in two months, and a Breakbulk Awards 2025 finalist, the first Caribbean-built technology shortlisted at that level.
- Led crisis and regulatory communications through public legal proceedings in a key growth market — the company was cleared in full — then rebuilt internal confidence, moving employee NPS from -53 to +43 in 14 months.
- Forbes Communications Council member; author of “Freight Without Friction: How AI Is Reengineering the Language of Global Trade” (Forbes, 2025).
